BAKERMAN®

The snack brand

1975, Heiko Thees with his mum Helga on the way to school. In the schoolyard, Heiko made his first bakery business.

Owner Heiko Thees, 1986

1996, Heiko Thees during his master craftsman's examination. Presentation of a bread range.

Bakery of Heiko's father:
Brot- und Feinbäckerei Jürgen Thees
August-Seibel-Straße 20
Putbus / Island of Rügen

In a world that is changing extremely fast, we often look for an anchor in the traditional.

At Bakerman, we understand the power of tradition, because it's the key to identity. Our centrepiece, Heiko Thees' father's handwritten recipe book from 1962, is more than just ageing pages. It's the proof of our roots, a legacy that we are proud to hold in our hands.

Every ageing page tells a story of love, dedication and the distinctive flavour of our origins. As bakers, we remain committed to our roots. Heiko Thees, who learned the traditional craft more than 35 years ago in his father's bakery on the island of Rügen, has a deep love for baked goods in his heart. This love is what drives us. But at Bakerman, we are both keepers of tradition and creators of the new.

We see the recipes not only as the old, but also as the key to new wow-effects and surprises.

Our baked goods are more than just products – they are an expression of our creativity, a tribute to the past and a promise for the future.

As a team, we believe that tradition and the proven should not exist exclusively in the past. They are our base, our inspiration as we are courageously breaking new paths.

#celebratethespirit – We celebrate the heritage by using the old recipe book as a compass into the future. It's our source of creativity, the drive for surprising creations that not only touch the senses but also the heart.

Every Bakerman snack tells a love story from the past and opens the door to a new adventure in which yesterday and tomorrow merge into a flavour experience and our customers will be impressed over and over again.
